It is important to us to recount the brutality that began in the 19th century with colonialism, which forms the roots of the brutality in the 20th century. We have to remember that...